Dear Miss Downey

Journey, 6 P.M. 190

I am sorry not to have seen you before you left as I wanted to talk with you, I did not know you ^{had} decided to go on the 5 o'clock train. I cannot get out of my mind your unjust and cruel accusation made in your office, but I will do the best I can to forget and go ahead and try to do my duty toward the work I love, - the library cause of Iowa. What your motive is I cannot fathom. Clearly, we do not understand each other or this could not have occurred, I will do my best for the success of the I. L. A. meeting, but fear it will be necessary for me to look after some things in order to complete the program, but will try to efface myself as much as possible.

I still think that the work of the whole state is a legitimate field for my endeavor, but hope I may be able to give you as little cause for offense as possible. I trust you will see to it that the changes are made in the Constitution Very truly
Alice S. Tyler
